

naturopathic help for acute illness

Avoid dairy products, excess wheat consumption & sugar during acute illness as this can increase mucous production and suppress the action of the immune system.

Drink plenty of fluids especially water.

Give extra Vitamin C. Consult your pharmacy or health care provider for dosages for children.

We recommend our Immune Boost remedy containing Astragalus 6x, Echinacea 6x, Hydrastis 6x, Olive Leaf Extract 6x to support the immune system through acute illness. It is prepared in homeopathic potency which is palatable for small children.

REMEMBER should your home prescribing prove ineffective visit your healthcare provider as soon as possible.

It is recommended by the health department that babies under six months with a fever should see a GP or visit the Emergency Department

Use only as directed. Always read the label or information supplied. If symptoms persist see your health care practitioner.

Our kits and remedies contain homeopathic medicines selected for use in minor ailments and injuries only. They are not suitable for home treatment of chronic, ongoing or serious conditions or diseases.

Homeopathy is deemed to be low risk by the Therapeutic Goods Administration. The remedies are effective when used in accordance with the homeopathic indications. The indications given in this flyer are as per the approved homeopathic texts.

If in doubt as to their appropriateness to a particular situation, consult your health care practitioner. The Health Department recommends to always seek advice for fever in a baby under six months old.

dose

1. The dose for combination remedies is 1 pilule or 1-4 drops. (1 drop under 6 months, 2 drops 6-12 months)
2. If the situation is intense give a dose every 5-10 minutes for up to 5 doses, then spread out to hourly, 2 hourly and 4 hourly as improvement is seen over a few days.
3. For less intense situations, we suggest taking the remedies 3 times a day for 3 days, then continuing to reduce as improvement is seen. Doses can be increased to more frequently if required.
4. If there is no improvement after 5 doses, change your remedy or seek advice from your homeopath.

giving the remedies

1. If you are anxious about giving pilules whole to a baby, crush 1 pilule between two clean teaspoons and tap a little into baby's mouth.
2. If you find pilules difficult to administer, put 1 pilule or 1-4 drops in 1/4 glass of water. Stir vigorously and give 1 teaspoon as the dose. The water is now the remedy.
3. Remedies can also be added to a child's water bottle so they can have their doses at school or childcare. Dosage is as above.
4. When remedies are made up in liquid do be aware that they will not last as long and can be easily contaminated if the mouth or fingers touch the dropper.

care of your remedies

1. Do not touch the remedies with your hands. Roll into lid of container and drop under tongue. Remedies are absorbed in the mouth, so allow to dissolve there.
2. Try to take remedies 10 or 15 minutes before or after food, drink, smoking, and brushing teeth. This promotes the best remedy action, but in a really acute situation (eg during labour) just take the remedy!
3. Discard any pilules which are dropped as they may be contaminated.
4. Store remedies away from direct light & heat, strong smells (such as essential oils) and electrical appliances.

homeopathy for children

Homeopathy is a system of natural medicine which is gentle and low risk, but dynamic in its action. It is useful for treating minor accidents, injuries and illnesses in the home and a few remedies can serve a wide range of situations. If applied correctly it will often work very quickly and efficiently.

While we advocate using single homeopathic remedies, sometimes new users are not sufficiently proficient and to this end we have created a range of combination remedies for a variety of conditions.

Homeopathy can be particularly useful for babies and small children where parents wish to take a more natural approach to healthcare. It can be used alongside conventional medications if required and with the Royal Children's Hospital's advice on fevers can be a good first step in your reading:

Homeopathy can also be very helpful for children who attend childcare or who have recently started school to support the immune system and address the niggly illnesses they often pick up.

The small selection of remedies in this flyer and in our mini kit have been selected for their affinity for the minor ailments children often succumb to. Started early enough it is often possible to head off more severe symptoms.

If an illness is recurrent a consultation is recommended to address the problem on a deeper level.

support for the vulnerable

More and more through winter we see epidemics and widespread viral illness. If your child is in childcare or new to school this can mean colds and flu for everyone at home too. Using Winter Prep regularly through winter and change of season can be a helpful support for the whole family.

Winter Prep - Cold & Flu Support - In 2014 I reintroduced a protocol I had used in the past but had abandoned in favour of Anas Barb 200c alone. With the worsening nature of colds and flus each winter, Winter Prep can be taken weekly in people prone to these illnesses. (The formulation may change each year in relation to the flu strains, vaccines and winter viruses in the Northern Hemisphere)

For more information see 9. Winter Prep.

Give 1 one pilule once a week from autumn through spring to the whole family if required.

avoiding issues with vaccination

We support safe and sensible vaccination practices, as part of a wellness plan for small children.

If you are worried about the side effects of vaccinating your baby or small child we have several options to offer which provide support and peace of mind.

The ImmSafe Program has been around in its current form since 2013, with a few changes here and there. However, we've been using the remedies and various protocols for over 20 years in the clinic.

The program matches targeted homeopathic remedies to the needles administered during vaccination and provides support to the immune system, assists with detoxing and enhances antibody production.

Two of our immune boosting remedies are supplied as part of the program for additional support.
